Alan J. Sedley has a well-developed and rather unique perspective on issues facing the healthcare community. As a former in-house general counsel and chief compliance officer at Hollywood Presbyterian Medical Center, he brings the corporate perspective to compliment his years as a private firm healthcare attorney.

With over thirty years of experience as a healthcare attorney, Alan provides counsel on healthcare transactional, operational and regulatory matters to hospitals, health systems, physicians and allied healthcare professionals, medical groups, medical staffs, and Medicare Provider reimbursement consulting firms. Alan helps clients develop and maintain up-to-date compliant policy and procedures, contracts and work force training programs.

Alan draws invaluable experience from his work as a hospital general counsel as he advises and represents hospitals and health systems in their oft-challenging operational issues addressing the traditional corporate concerns within the context of the healthcare marketplace. He provides advice on corporate organization and governance, strategic alliances and business transactions, medical staff relations and peer review body and practitioner disputes, medical staff bylaws, policies and procedures, practitioner credentialing, and bioethics (informed consent/end-of-life decision making/clinical research) issues.

From the first stages of litigation through trial and appeal in state and federal courts, Alan's client-focused strategies and depth of experience have come to play to resolve matters as efficiently and expediently as possible.

Alan has represented numerous physicians and other healthcare professionals before California regulatory and licensing agencies. He has defended providers accused of billing irregularities and fraud by Medicare and Medicaid.

Above all, Alan is able to apply his extensive healthcare law experiences to get to the heart of every matter and respond effectively to the critical needs of clients, needs which are all the more necessary in this ever-changing healthcare landscape.

In his spare time, Alan pursues his passion for cycling, racquetball, and photography. Reading has been one of his lifelong passions. Although he enjoys the occasional novel, he limits his selection mostly to history and biographies.

Alan has been Peer Review Rated as AV® Preeminent™, the highest performance rating in Martindale-Hubbell's peer review rating system.
